ABOUT BELMONT

Belmont, meaning “beautiful mountain” in French, is a peninsula community halfway between San Francisco and San Jose. Situated primarily on the hills overlooking San Francisco Bay and the coastal range, the area is abundant in trees, vast canyons and gorgeous wooded hillsides. Homes are nestled throughout, reflecting a solid residential base.

The downtown has easy access to freeway and rail transportation and is a mix of locally owned shops and commercial shopping. The population of close to 26,000 works in San Mateo County with only 17% commuting elsewhere. There are excellent private and public schools with exceptionally high test scores and one of the few peninsula Universities in Notre Dame De Namur on the site of the historic Ralston Mansion.

The adopted Vision Statement developed by members of the community captures Belmont’s distinctive community character:

- Belmont prides itself on being unique
- Its small-town ambiance sets it apart as a tranquil, safe and desirable place to live
- We get involved in town matters because we care about living here
- We connect with each other in all kinds of gathering places
- Our strong sense of community and enjoyment of the town’s assets and activities deepen as we become better informed and connected

ABOUT MENLO PARK

Menlo Park, a beautiful city of tree-lined neighborhoods, is home to over 32,000 residents, with several active commercial districts. The City received its name in 1854, when two men from Ireland purchased the land, approximately 1,700 acres, built their homes, and named it after their old home in Menlough on Lough Corib, County Cork, Ireland.

Excellent public and private schools service the many young families who call Menlo Park home, while residents of all ages enjoy the numerous city parks and recreational facilities throughout the 19 square miles of the City. Both Stanford University and Menlo College settled and built their roots in Menlo Park, which provides a multitude of academic, cultural and athletic opportunities for all.

Located in the heart of Menlo Park is a pedestrian-oriented downtown featuring unique and upscale shops and restaurants. These, and the many other amenities throughout the City, contribute to Menlo Park's outstanding quality of life.
